Flood assessment in Kelantan by MM Staff

Needs overview

Water, sanitation and hygiene (WASH)

1. 40,000 people are estimated to be in urgent need of WASH support in the districts most affected by the floods, storms and landslides.
2. Majority of the evacuees are struggling in obtaining clean water to be consumed for the daily usage due to utilities issue.

Health and COVID-19

1. Based on the assessment team, certain evacuation centres in Pahang have no access to masks, hand sanitizers and even sanitary pads due to the current flood condition.
2. Health facilities are reported to be isolated and inaccessible due to the floodwaters or landslides. This prevents approximately 11,290 families and 1,116 children under five years of age from access to essential health care services.

Food and nutrition

1. Continuous supply of nutritious food is needed to the evacuees staying at the evacuation centers. This include ready-to-eat-food like biscuits, power bars, and canned food as the people did not have any cooking equipments to prepare meals.
2. For families already suffering from the socio-economic impact of COVID-19, this disaster puts their ability to secure nutritious food for their children in peril.

Logistics support

1. To encounter the flood situation, manpower support are necessary in Pahang, Johor, Kelantan and Terengganu to ensure all evacuees would be always protected.
2. MERCY Malaysia require support to mobilise its teams, which includes medical team (medical officers, medical assistance and nurses), aid distribution team, technical team (for recovery assessments) and cleaning team.

Education support

1. The flood situation have caused severe damage on the school facilities which would have affected the families' and children's preparations to resume schooling on 20th January.
2. Basic back-to-school items such as school bags, shoes, socks and stationeries are now essentials that are required by communities affected by the flood.
